so, you're ready
to build a
man-cave...

sounds easy
enough, right?

Think of it as a retreat, a place to read, a quiet office, an alternative playroom for the kids, plus a place to watch movies and the big game.

A Grotto of Your Own

For some, their favorite retreat is a place to melt away among the stone and wood of a modern in-home spa and sauna. Just Basements in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, designed this getaway that almost makes you forget where you are. The mocha split stone veneer gives the space a sleek, modern feel. Gray ceramic tile on the floor and in the shower pulls the room together. The tile in the shower niches is marble mosaic. The vanity top is quartz.
